Air Force To Boost Production Of Jets

Wichita Boeing Plant To Be Used As Second Source For Bombers; More Supersonic Fighters Ordered

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force announced Monday stepped up production of giant Boeing B-52 jet bombers and North American F-100 supersonic jet fighters.

Exactly how many planes will be ordered under the new program has not been decided, Secretary of the Air Force Talbott said.

His announcement stressed that the additional bombers will be turned out by Boeing's aircraft plant at Wichita, Kan., "to eliminate the danger of a single source for this important aircraft." Boeing's Seattle plant now produces all B-52s.

Talbott said Boeing will be given sufficient time on deliveries to tool up its Wichita plant at an estimated cost of 250 million dollars.

He said the expanded fighter and bomber production will be ordered only after "extensive tests" of the planes, a precaution taken to avoid major modifications of new aircraft after they have come off the production line.

"It has been normal policy," Talbott said, "to maintain low rates of production on all new aircraft until extensive testing has proved that all apparent defects have been eliminated and that the aircraft is ready for quantity production."

Faster Than Sound
Talbott said the F-100 has exceeded the speed of sound in level flight during initial tests, has completed its first and second phase tests and "all indications are that it will meet its final tests successfully."

The huge B-52 is powered by eight Pratt and Whitney J-57 jet engines, has a wing span of 185 feet, is 156 feet long and has a tail height of 48 feet.

In answer to a question, Talbott said the Air Force probably will announce later this week the award of contracts for C-123 assault transport planes.

A reporter, obviously referring to this year's congressional fight over a slash in Air Force funds, asked Talbott if there was enough air defense money available for the current fiscal year, which ends next June 30.

"Air defense has got all the money that it can spend intelligently through fiscal 1954," he replied.

More Blood Donors Sought

"Walk-in" donors are needed to help Lancaster County meet its blood donation goal, Harold Read, chairman of the recruitment drive, has reported.

The donation center at the Scottish Rite Temple, 332 So. 15th, will be open from noon to 5 p.m. Tuesday for September donations. The goal is 200 pints.

Approximately 245 have registered to donate blood, Read said. But, he explained, it will take about 275 persons to meet the goal because of cancellations and persons turned away for failure to pass the requirements.

Whole blood is still being sent to hospitals in Korea for wounded men, Read said. The remainder of the blood donated is used to manufacture gamma globulin used in combating the effects of polio, he said.

Lancaster County was short 18 pints of meeting its August donation goal of 150 pints.

Mrs. Pearson, 81, Dies At Hospital

Mrs. Anna Pearson, 81, 2019 So. 19, died Monday night in a local hospital.

Born in Denmark, Mrs. Pearson came to Lincoln from Malcolm 33 years ago.

On April 21, 1948, she and her husband, John A., who survives, celebrated their Golden Wedding anniversary. She was a member of First Lutheran Church.

Surviving, in addition to her husband, are two daughters, Mrs. Gertrude Allen of Lincoln and Miss Ruth Pearson of Manhattan, Kan.; a son, Walter O., Lincoln; seven grandchildren; and 11 great grandchildren.

Individual Student's Needs Stressed

The needs of the individual student be recognized and met in the public schools if children are to become truly educated, mature adults.

That is what the Lincoln Dinner Club was told Monday by Mrs. Paul Whitney. Mrs. Whitney, former chairman of the Juvenile Protection and Youth Service of the New York State Congress of Parents and Teachers, is a nationally-known lecturer and authority on juvenile problems.

She emphasized that to teach Today's Chuckle What the world needs is a nice way to be rude to people.

Robinson Quits City Zoning Post

Cites Court Suit As Reason; Ash Disgusted

The City Council has accepted the resignation of Gail Robinson from the Zoning Board of Appeals—tendered on the grounds that his seat on the board has been challenged.

"Since a suit has now been filed in the District Court of Lancaster County questioning the propriety of my firm, Dobson & Robinson, contracting with the city while I was a member of the Zoning Board, I believe it is advisable that I resign from that board," wrote Robinson.

The suit referred to by Robinson is one brought by William Niklaus in which Niklaus names Dobson & Robinson as the defendant in an action to recover all money paid Dobson & Robinson on sewer and water district contracts with the city since Robinson has been on the Zoning Board.

"There has been no connection," wrote Robinson in his resignation, "between the work of Dobson & Robinson for the city and the activities of the Zoning Board. At no time has my position on the Zoning Board been a personal advantage to myself or my firm."

City Councilman Pat Ash expressed disgust for the action which led Robinson to resign.

"In our form of government," said Ash, "we need to enlist the help of all citizens. If we are going to let this type of thing continue (the suit by Niklaus), then we will lose the assistance of many other needed persons."

Robinson has served on the board since May of 1947. His current term would have expired in May of 1959. No successor was named by the Council.

Pedestrian Stop Sign Trial Use Given Approval

The City Council has approved a trial use of a new traffic sign bearing the words "stop for pedestrians."

Welfare and Safety Director Ray Osborn reported the signs have been used successfully in many other cities. They could be used in Lincoln, said Osborn, in places where regular stop signs are not warranted.

The signs would be particularly helpful, said Osborn, for use in place of school stop signs when the school stops were not necessary.

$75,000 Apartment Building Is Being Built At 17th, F

Construction is under way on erection of a new $75,000 10 family unit apartment building at 831 So. 17th.

Robert E. Gilmore, building contractor and owner of the structure, plans to complete the building in about six months. With a brick veneer exterior, the 10 units will each be one bedroom apartments.

There will be four apartments on each of the top two floors and two apartments in the semi-basement. The entire structure will measure 51.6 by 58 feet.

But those marks were not the highest in Kansas. Salina registered a boiling 107.

At Scottsbluff, meanwhile, gusts of 60 miles an hour caused considerable damage and blowing dust cut visibility to a few hundred feet. Trees and tree limbs were scattered in the streets and communication and power lines were ripped out of order.

No one was injured but traffic was slowed to a near standstill by the poor visibility. A trace of rain was reported.

In addition to being the hottest ever on a Sept. 28, the day was also the hottest it's ever been for so late in the season, the Lincoln Weather Bureau said. However, it was not a record high for the month of September, the bureau added.

The trouble could be traced to a low pressure area north of Montana in Canada, which was causing hot winds to sweep in from the southwest.

Prospects are for continued unseasonably warm weather Tuesday.

And with September almost gone, the Lincoln weather bureau said only 1.25 inches of precipitation has fallen to date this month, compared to a normal of 2.65 inches.

The forecast called for partly cloudy skies through Tuesday night with northerly winds spreading over the state bringing a little cooler weather by Tuesday night. High temperatures Tuesday was expected to reach the 70s in the northwest and 90 to 95 in the extreme southeast.

Rush To Save Possessions From Fire

As flames creep closer to their homes in East St. Louis Monday, residents of this block in a Negro section save their household possessions by carrying them to the street. All the buildings in the foreground were destroyed before firemen could bring the blaze under control. There were 24 homes wiped out. (AP Wirephoto Monday Night.)

do about the fire," said Fire Captain Marion Norris. "People were lying all over the place, and we handled those we could."

County Policeman John Raiser, one of the first persons on the scene, reported that "we just started dragging people out of the plane as best we could. Some of them were pretty badly mangled."

The stricken plane was one of five bringing soldiers from Camp Kilmer, the first landed safely. After the second plane crashed, the three others were directed to Bowman Field, also in Louisville.

The woman took young Greenlee away from the school, Notre Dame DeSion, in a taxicab. They left the cab at a parking lot and were seen by the cab driver getting into a late model blue sedan.

The school, located in a quiet residential section of the city, is operated by a French order of the Catholic Church. Among its pupils are two daughters of Princess Ilena of Romania, Elizabeth and Maria Magdalena, whose home is at Newton, Mass.

No Contact
First reports said the abductor had contacted the family. Police later said this was erroneous.

The nun said she suggested to the young woman that she step into the school chapel and pray for Bobby to be called from his classroom. She said the woman, whom she described as having reddish-brown hair and wearing a white blouse and dark brown skirt, entered the chapel and knelt.

"I'm not a Catholic," the young woman remarked to the nun on leaving, "but it did me good to pray."

Greenlee is the distributor here for the Cadillac Motor Co. He and Mrs. Greenlee also have a daughter, Virginia Sue, 11.

For more than 20 years prior to World War II his Greenlee-Lied partnership in Omaha covered Nebraska and part of Iowa. He sold his share of that agency when his partner died.

Firemen Confine Blaze To Attic: Elderly Roomer Escapes Suffocation
A residential fire at 4103 Baldwin that caused "some damage" was suffocating a 90-year-old roomer before firemen confined the blaze to the attic Monday night.

The fire, according to a fire department official at University Place, was caused by a short in the electric wiring in the attic.

Thick heavy smoke spread throughout the one and a half story frame home from the fire that burned household furnishings stored in the attic.

The roomer, B. W. Palmer, was out feeding the chickens with the landlady and owner, Mrs. Nellie Merritt. When they returned to the house from the back yard, the lights would not go on, Palmer said.

Mrs. Merritt lit a kerosene lamp and saw smoke coming out of the attic.

Palmer attempted to get out the front of the house, but was so overcome by the choking smoke he had to stay inside.

The elderly man said he did not lose consciousness, however, and when University Place firemen came, they cut down the smoke with water lines from two engines.

Mrs. Merritt, the owner, said she could not estimate the damage at that time.

Firemen shoveled hundreds of sparking household objects out of the attic window onto the ground.

22 GIs Killed In Kentucky Plane Crash

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — At least 22 men lost their lives Monday when a plane carrying soldier trainees from Camp Kilmer, N. J., crashed and burned at Standiford Field, Louisville.

All the 20 others aboard the twin-engine plane were injured. The plane, operated by Resort Airlines, Inc., carrying a crew of three and 39 trainees, had taken off from Philadelphia.

Most of the trainees were of Puerto Rican ancestry and were being taken to Ft. Knox, Ky. Deputy Coroner Harry Ell-stone said the dead included the plane's captain, Wharton A. Moller, 34, of San Antonio, Tex., and the co-captain, John Dewitt Pickett, 32, of San Antonio.

Stewardess Dorothy Jean Bush, 32, of Miami, Fla., lost a leg in the disaster, a hospital reported.

The craft almost touched its wheels to the runway, then climbed to about 150 feet and nosedived to the field. The plane broke in half at the middle, and both engines burst into flames.

The passengers in the rear portion were spilled about the field. "There wasn't much we could

Price Support Opinion Varied
Nebraska reaction varied Monday to a Washington report that the farm country was expressing concern over the agricultural situation and showing increased interest in farm supports.

The reports stated that the question of supports is expected to be a basic issue facing the Congress when it convenes in January. It was stated that three major farm groups have contended that the 90 per cent parity supports are too high.

The groups listed were: The American Farm Bureau Federation, the National Grange and the National Council of Farmer Cooperatives.

Gale C. Anderson, secretary of the Nebraska Cooperative Council, when advised of the report, said that the organization had never taken a definite stand on the issue but that he felt Council's members throughout the state supported the 90 per cent of parity supports.

Dr. H. C. Filley, head of the Nebraska Grange took a somewhat different view. He said that his organization is not in favor of 90 per cent of parity support on all products, but only on non-perishable staples such as wheat. On wheat, he added, the organization wants 90 per cent on the part of the crop that is consumed in the U.S. and is willing to take the "world price" on any that is exported.

Mercury Hits Record Of 101; Hot Spell Likely To Continue
Nebraska took it on the chin Monday from the erratic early-autumn weather.

Temperatures soared to record highs at the eastern end of the state while the western section was buffeted by winds of gale force, dropping the temperature into the 60s.

The mercury climbed to 101 in Lincoln and 100 in Omaha, record highs for both places. The previous Lincoln high was 96 in 1935 and 95 in Omaha in 1939.

Nebraska temperatures still were not the highest in the area. Kansas City had 103, Topeka 104 and St. Joseph 102. Lamoni, Ia., had 101.

But those marks were not the highest in Kansas. Salina registered a boiling 107.

At Scottsbluff, meanwhile, gusts of 60 miles an hour caused considerable damage and blowing dust cut visibility to a few hundred feet. Trees and tree limbs were scattered in the streets and communication and power lines were ripped out of order.

U.S. And Russia Alone Have Means To Avert War, U.N. Told

—Woman Abductor— K.C. Youth Kidnapped Auto Dealer's Son Taken From School

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The six-year-old son of a 71-year-old millionaire Kansas City automobile dealer was kidnapped Monday by a quiet young woman who prayed in the school chapel while the boy was being called from his classes.

Police Chief Bernard C. Brannon waited three hours after being notified of the abduction before announcing it to the press and radio, explaining authorities feared earlier disclosure might result in the child's death or injury.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation, which at first said it was taking no hand in the case but was keeping in liaison with police, later Monday night replied "no comment" when asked if it had since started an investigation.

The mysterious woman posed as the boy's aunt in gaining admission to the school and told a nun that Mrs. Greenlee had suffered a heart attack while shopping and that she had come to take the boy to his mother at a hospital.

No Reason
Greenlee said he knew of no reason why anyone would kidnap his child. He said he had received no word from the abductor.

Mrs. Greenlee was confined to her bed by shock. She is Greenlee's second wife and is in her mid-forties. They were married in 1939.

The woman took young Greenlee away from the school, Notre Dame DeSion, in a taxicab. They left the cab at a parking lot and were seen by the cab driver getting into a late model blue sedan.

The school, located in a quiet residential section of the city, is operated by a French order of the Catholic Church. Among its pupils are two daughters of Princess Ilena of Romania, Elizabeth and Maria Magdalena, whose home is at Newton, Mass.

'At Best We Might Have Generation Of Peace,' Delegate Menon Says

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — India's V. K. Krishna Menon Monday called on the U. N. Assembly to request formally a personal meeting of the chiefs of state of the big powers in an attempt to solve the world's troubles.

Menon said the peace of the world is the responsibility of the great powers — "primarily of the two giants — the United States and the Soviet Union." He said they alone have the means to enforce peace.

He also urged the Assembly to issue a declaration calling on the United States and Russia to promise never to use atomic and hydrogen bombs and other weapons of mass destruction.

Referring to a meeting of the chiefs of state, he said "this idea is what humanity cries for."

The wavy-haired Indian delegate spoke to the Assembly shortly after Prime Minister Churchill broke into his vacation to declare he still thinks a top level Big Four meeting is a good idea.

Some diplomats here said they looked on the Indian proposal coupled with Churchill's statement Monday as twin moves to put pressure on the United States to agree to a top level conference on world problems.

Menon apparently meant that Britain, the United States and the Soviet Union should send their chiefs of state to such a conference. He quoted statements from them on the desirability of peace and said at least a start must be made on solving the world's problems.

He also mentioned that President Auriol of France had called for a Big Four conference in an address to the assembly in 1951.

The United States delegation said any reaction to Menon's proposal on a meeting of the big powers would have to come from Washington since it involved the President.

In Washington, however, the State Department said it failed to see how a top-level conference such as Churchill suggested could "accomplish results different from those being sought through conferences that are now in prospect." The department was commenting on the announcement issued for Churchill in London.

Menon spoke one hour and 40 minutes. When finished, Mrs. Vijaya Lakshmi Pandit, sister of Prime Minister Nehru and president of the Assembly, adjourned the assembly, went to the speaker's stand, and gave Menon a big hug in congratulations on his speech.

Menon told the delegates it was clear no settlement of world tensions was possible except by agreement among the great powers.

"Their meeting might lead to the solution of problems," he continued. "There can be no harm. It would clear the air with regard to Germany and Korea."

He indicated he expected such a conference to be a real discussion, with no one going to the meeting with his mind already made up. He said there are precedents to show that meetings of this type have solved matters in the past.

A Churchill story will be found on Page 20.

Poland Relieves Cardinal

Wyszynski Accused Of Anti-State Acts

WARSAW, Poland (P)—Poland's Communist government has decided to divest Stefan Cardinal Wyszynski, head of the Roman Catholic Church in Poland, from his church offices, the Polish radio announced Monday night.

The broadcast charged the Cardinal had been guilty of "constantly breaking" provisions of the 1950 agreement between state and church.

(The broadcast, as reported from Vienna, said he also was accused of anti-state activities and misusing his authority.) It added that he had been confined to a monastery at the request of the Polish Episcopate which was quoted as saying the "nation's unity and good demand the carrying out of the provisions of the state-church agreement."

The broadcast said Bishop Michael Klepacz of Lodz had been elected chairman of the Episcopate.

Official Vatican sources expressed shocked amazement at the report. These sources said the Cardinal and leader of the Catholic Church in Poland was appointed by the Pope and "no other source can change or lessen this. No government can 'relieve' a Cardinal."

The Vatican sources said that despite recent moves by Poland in intensifying pressure against the church they were surprised by this reported action and at a loss to understand what the Polish government hoped to accomplish. They said the "arrogant presumption" of the Polish authorities in confining the Cardinal to a monastery went "beyond even the limits of recent persecution."

Cardinal Wyszynski was given his high office only last Jan. 12 at a secret consistory in Rome. But he was unable to join other new princes of the church at the ceremonies to receive his red hat. It was reported in Rome at the time that he feared if he left Poland he would not be able to return.

Rector Acting NU YMCA Director

Merwin H. Rector, assistant general secretary of the Lincoln-Lancaster YMCA, is now acting as director of the University of Nebraska YMCA on a part time basis.

Unfilled for this year is the position of executive secretary of the university group, a position vacated by the resignation of Sam Gibson last summer.

The annual school is sponsored by the Christian Education Division of the Lincoln Council of Churches. Mrs. John Stahn, dean of the school, announced that students still interested in joining the school may enroll next Monday and make up credit for the first night classes.

Beer Wholesalers Meet With Liquor Commission To Discuss Price Hike

Beer drinkers will soon feel the effects of increased prices it was revealed Monday as the Nebraska Beer Wholesalers Association met informally with the State Liquor Commission to discuss their problem.

The association asked the commission to call a public hearing so that beer could be excepted from the provisions of Rule 46 which now requires "manufacturers, distributors and wholesalers" of intoxicating liquor to file prices with the commission.

Under present regulations before price increases, the wholesalers are required to give data supporting their requests for increases.

Chief concern of the wholesalers attending appeared to be that having been notified of increases by out-of-state breweries selling their goods in this state, the Nebraska breweries would be able to continue present prices until they had ruined the market of the other breweries and then join in the increase.

While the law requires manufacturers to post prices, members of the liquor commission pointed out that they cannot enforce this provision as they are not licensed and sell through wholesalers. Only possibility would be to withhold state liquor tax stamps from them.

Nebraska breweries, which are licensed by the state, must conform to the law on posting of price lists.

The wholesalers also objected to the requirement that they must post price lists 30 days in advance, explaining that they would have to absorb the loss if breweries increased prices to them in less than that time.

The meeting was requested by the association to acquaint the commission informally of their problems and offer suggestions for changes in present regulations. No immediate action was taken by the commission.

Late October Bond Sales Mayor's Hope

With the $6 million water revenue bond ordinance approved, the City Council set its sights on the sale of the bonds with appointment of a three-member committee to oversee the printing of the bond prospectus for submission to possible purchasers of the debentures.

The bond ordinance was given its second and third reading at one time under the emergency rules. City Engineer D. L. Erickson stated that the prospectus should be ready to send to bond buyers at the time the ordinance becomes effective in 15 days.

The hope was expressed by Mayor Clark Jeary that the bonds could be sold late in October or early in November.

Meanwhile, the Council pushed ahead with the water system improvement program by approving estimates totaling $337,900 for work at the 51st Street pumping station.

The two projects involved call for a $313,200 reservoir with a five million gallon capacity and a $24,700 distribution pump with a capacity of 10 million gallons per day. Bids will be taken on both items Oct. 14.

It is essential, said Jeary, that the bonds be sold as soon as possible because funds now on hand may not be sufficient to meet the cost of improvements being contracted for.

News Around The Globe

U.S.-Japan Agree

TOKYO (Tuesday) (P)—The United States and Japan today signed an agreement giving Japanese courts jurisdiction over American military personnel charged with crimes outside U. S. bases in this country.

It is a revision of the Japan-United States agreement which formerly gave U. S. military courts jurisdiction in such cases. Long sought by Japan, the new agreement is similar to that in effect in NATO treaty countries. It becomes effective Oct. 24.

Settlement Closer

CAIRO, Egypt (P)—Egyptian officials said Monday Britain has agreed to withdraw her big garrison from the vital Suez Canal area in 18 months, but the British envoy here said final settlement of the old and often bloody feud is still a long way off.

Even though there may be agreement on the withdrawal of troops — and Britain has indicated she is willing to do this — provided some arrangement is made for defense of the strategic waterway in case of an attack — an official Egyptian source made it clear that the negotiations still could break down on some other issue.

Cardon Favored

WASHINGTON (P)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson said Monday he will not support the re-election of a new deal Democrat, Norris E. Dodd, as director general of the U.N. Food and Agriculture Organization (FAO).

Instead, Benson announced, he will seek the election of Dr. P. V. Cardon to the post Dodd has held since 1948. Now a director of the Agriculture Department's graduate school, Cardon formerly headed the department's agricultural research administration.

Washington (P)—The resignation of all members of the War Claims Commission has been requested by the White House, it was disclosed Monday.

However, Chairman Daniel Cleary told newsmen he would refuse to submit his resignation and said "I don't think the others will, either." All are Democratic appointees.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, confirmed that a request had been sent the three commissioners to resign. He said he expected the request would be complied with.

Hagerty declined to comment on the reason for the action.

Aid To Be Asked

TOKYO (Tuesday) (P)—Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida is leaving for Washington shortly to discuss Japan's rearmament with high U. S. officials, a source close to the Japanese leader said Monday.

Yoshida is sending a personal envoy in advance. Former Finance Minister Hayato Ikeda leaves today by plane.

Both Yoshida and Ikeda were expected to ask for greater U. S. mutual security aid to speed Japan's national defense against possible Communist aggression.

Locals Bolt ILA

NEW YORK (P)—Two locals with 1,500 men bolted the orphaned International Longshoremen's Association Monday night as the union cleared the docks for a midweek waterfront strike.

The new defections made a total of three locals bolting the ILA since it was kicked out of the AFL last week for racketeering.

Flying Doctor Spots Wreck, Lands, Helps

A young doctor from Nebraska recently swooped down from 8,000 feet above the scene of a highway accident and rendered life-saving emergency treatment to the injured.

Dr. Ray Gardner Witham, 32, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Smith of 5301 Fremont and a graduate of the University of Nebraska School of Medicine, frequently flies from his office in Craig, Colorado, to out-lying districts.

He and his pilot were returning from an emergency call when they spotted an auto accident 8,000 feet below. They landed in an alfalfa field 100 yards away.

Dr. Witham quickly treated the four injured persons, one of whom probably would have died without immediate aid and stayed with them until the ambulance came.

Mrs. Witham learned of the doctor's exploit from a friend. She is the former Dorothy Maxine Smith, a graduate of the University of Nebraska School of Nursing.

Dr. Witham is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hilmer Thompson of Chappell.

Lowell Rutledge Of Ashland Dies

Lowell R. Rutledge, 55, of Ashland, died Monday night in a local hospital.

He is survived by his wife, Alice.

State Board OKs Refunds

The State Board of Educational Lands and Funds Monday acted favorably upon the first three claims for refunds on bonuses they received for transfer of school land leases. Total refunded was $4,152.

The law providing that the state receive one-half of bonuses paid on assignment of leases was held unconstitutional and the last Legislature provided that the money be refunded on application.

There are approximately 200 former lease holders eligible for refunds for a total of approximately $100,000.

The board discussed sale of leases that have expired and will be offered the public next month. Hugh Dillion, state surveyor, informed the board that re-appraisals ordered by the Legislature before sales are held would materially increase values on which rentals are fixed. This, he predicted, would mean lower bonuses than in past sales but greater rental return yearly.

In PURSUIT of HAPPINESS

By J. GORDON ROBERTS

What is wrong with adultery?

This question is raised by the magazine coverage of a report of female sexual behavior. The behavior of some 5,000 females established through hearsay evidence has been offered as indicating a scientific "norm" for women.

Of course such evidence would be thrown out of any court, and could at best be termed "evidence" only by those considering psychology as a branch of zoology.

Let us consider the original question, nevertheless, without regard to zoological psychology.

The emotional balances of man and woman are based primarily upon the welfare of the race, if the entire study of living things offers any criterion.

In general, man is less emotional than woman, and woman more so than man in the sense of giving vent to feeling. Woman, is more subjective than man, but far less so than the infant, who is as completely subjective as a human may be. Why?

So far as subjectivity is concerned, woman stands at a point between the extreme subjectivity of the child and the objectivity of the mature male engaged in making a living. Thus, and only thus, may woman understand as she does both child and man.

There is something maternal in the love of every good woman. There is also something paternal, a fatherly gentleness, in the love of every good man. Chivalry simply represents the gentleness of the father toward his beloved, little girl.

For, however mature we may become, whatever charm we possess is represented by the little boy or little girl within us. Without a childhood residual—as natural as the navel to all who have spent any part of their lives as children—we would probably have very little fun. Certainly no World Series.

The "good" woman understands the little boy in the man she loves, and respects the little fellow for the demon he can become. But she realizes that she cannot offer such understanding on a wholesale basis.

The "good" man understands the little girl in his spouse, is slow to be angered by the darling, little vixen, and respects her with chivalry.

To the extent that woman serves as a pillar of strength to her children, to that extent must she use her husband in a similar role.

A scientific study at a European military depot during the war revealed that babies had the scours when mothers did not meet husbands expected to return, but who did not return. The emotional disturbance literally poisoned the mothers' milk.

How may such reaction be explained in terms of zoological psychology?

They're all talking "best deal in town" BUT WHO'S GOT IT?

Are you really sure that the car dealer who gives you "the best deal in town" really gives you the best BUY in town?

As you well know, the best BUYS are based on value.

Because value lasts longer than any other quality—and, in automobiles, that means longer motoring pleasure, greater safety, lower upkeep, and a better trade-in allowance later on.

You know very well that you never bought an automobile right off the printed page. You bought it ONLY after a demonstration when features either come to life or amount to nothing.

So we urge you: before you take that "best deal in town" . . . take a demonstration in the new Packard CLIPPER and value-check the features with which we challenge all other cars!

We challenge them all on a value check of the following points

Modern contour styling. Check it for greater all-around visibility, wider doors, more room, more luggage capacity.

Processing Of Reluctant Prisoners 'May Be Delayed Further'

Allies And Reds Reject Compounds Built For 'Explanation' Team Use

PANMUNJON, Tuesday (AP)—The Korean Repatriation Commission told the U. N. Command and the Communists today the processing of reluctant war prisoners "may be delayed further if both sides insist on improvements in facilities."

An Indian spokesman said both sides had rejected the location and design of compounds already built for use by "explanation" teams who will seek to persuade prisoners to return home.

The spokesman said the Reds object to the present site because Communist representatives "have to go through all the POW camps in order to reach it."

"They want to avoid them because of hostile prisoners," he added.

The U. N. Command has protested that the compounds are too small and inadequate.

The "explanations" to 22,600 anti-Communist prisoners and more than 300 Allied POWs were scheduled to start Oct. 1, but the Repatriation Commission said they would have to be postponed "unless the two sides are prepared to start the work with the existing facilities."

The five-nation commission is under fire from the Allies for circulating a message "slanted toward unduly influencing" the anti-Communist prisoners. The Allies charged the message violated the commission's neutrality.

The commission had been expected to reply formally today, but the spokesman said an answer probably would not be forthcoming until tomorrow.

Brig. Gen. A. L. Hamblen, commander of the U. N. repatriation group, charged Monday that the commission failed to permit Allied representatives to observe, or check in advance, a statement which he contended "definitely disregards the clear spirit" of the armistice agreement on voluntary repatriation.

An Allied spokesman said the message was "clearly of Chinese Communist Origin" and actually exerts "maximum coercion on the prisoners."

A spokesman for the Repatriation Commission denied the charge and said it had "not indulged in any propaganda for any side."

Jamaican Student Flies To Union College

After flying 2,500 miles from Jamaica to Lincoln by private plane, John Lindo (center) will enroll at Union College, Lindo, whose home is in Savanna-la-mar, Jamaica, British West Indies, will major in business at the college.

Piloting the plane was Earl L. Gardner (left), Seventh-Day Adventist missionary in Jamaica. Lindo was greeted by M. S. Culver (right), dean of men at Union College.

The single-engine plane flew the 2,500 miles from Kingston, Jamaica, to Lincoln in approximately 18 hours via Miami, Tampa and Chattanooga.

Lindo was graduated from West Indian Training College, a Seventh-Day Adventist junior college in Jamaica. Dr. M. J. Sorenson, a University of Nebraska graduate, is president of the college.

This was the 55th crossing of the Caribbean Sea for Gardner, a former teacher at the college, who does all his missionary work in the British West Indies by plane. Gardner and his wife are former students of Union College.

Rev. T. C. Dick's Acceptance Of First Plymouth Call Awaits Colorado Action

Formal acceptance by the Rev. Thomas C. Dick Jr. of the pastorate of First Plymouth Congregational Church awaits presentation of the Lincoln call to his church boards in Colorado Springs, Dr. Steven Watkins said Monday.

Rev. Dick, now serving as pastor of the First Congregational Church in Colorado Springs, was issued the call by members of the Lincoln church Sunday. Dr. Watkins is chairman of the First Plymouth pastoral committee.

Rev. Dick, contacted Monday at a church conference in Walsenburg, Colo., declined to comment on acceptance of the Lincoln pastorate.

The 42-year-old minister has been active in church affairs since accepting the position in Colorado Springs in 1944. He was moderator of the Colorado Congregational Conference and chairman of the board of directors in 1949.

Rev. Dick was one of 25 Congregational clergymen from the United States selected to attend the Seventh International Congregational Conference held in June in St. Andrews, Scotland. A native of Elizabeth, N. J., Rev. Dick received his A.B. degree from Tusculum College at Greenville, Tenn., in 1936, and his B.D. degree from Chicago Theological Seminary in 1943.

He held two fellowships while attending seminary. He did his field work under the direction of Douglas Horton at United Church in Hyde Park, Ill., and conducted an intensive study of Cromwell and Emerson under Fred Eastman.

He has held pastorates at the Presbyterian Church in Dubuque, Ia., and at Plymouth Congregational Church in St. Paul, Minn. If he accepts the call, Rev. Dick will come to Lincoln about the first of the year. He is married and has four children, two boys and two girls, between the ages of four and 13.

Terry Carpenter Again Asks Special Session

State Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff reiterated his claim in Lincoln Monday that a special session of the Legislature should be called to "do something" about the tax situation before 1954 assessments are made.

He charged that the Republican Party's leadership had "taken advantage of the people's lack of knowledge of state government" to shift the tax burden from the owners of personal property "who have been paying, and can afford to pay, to real estate taxes."

Missouri At Low Tide

In Omaha Sunday, Brig. Gen. W. E. Potter of the Corps of Army Engineers directed public attention to one of the benefits of the huge, costly multiple-purpose dams now under construction on the Missouri River. These big dams, Gen. Potter said, helped to maintain a desirable flow of water in the river during prolonged periods of drought or short rainfall.

The Missouri below Yankton, S. D., would be dangerously low from the standpoint of municipal water supply, sanitation and navigation except for upstream reservoir controls. It is the waters from the huge lake back of Ft. Peck and Ft. Randall which are maintaining adequate flows in the lower basin where Missouri is now experiencing the worst drought in that state's history and where along other portions of the watershed there is a moisture deficiency. The river stage of 5.5 feet at Omaha would be much lower were it not for the release of stored water from Peck and Randall. Gen. Potter's computations suggest that at Omaha, the stage would be only a foot with a flow of about 9,000 cubic feet per second—2 of a foot above what the United States Public Health Service found to be the absolute minimum for sanitation and municipal water supply. At Kansas City the Missouri would be below the minimum safe level and all other communities along its lower course would be up against the same hazard.

Unfortunately in the criticism directed toward big dams, the only emphasis has been upon flood control. Yet we have our droughts along with our floods and the actual damage from droughts in this Missouri Basin far exceeds the destruction by floods. The only way to be sure of water during a drought, whether it serves irrigation or municipal supply or sanitation, is to store it behind big dams. Much as has been said in critical spirit, the big dam takes the water when it is available and impounds it both to taper off floods and to stabilize stream flow.

Riches Of Tidelands

It is uncertain at this time whether the issue of Tidelands Oil again will go to the United States Supreme Court for review.

A number of states, largely inland, have indicated their intention of testing the constitutionality of the legislation whereby California, Texas, Louisiana, and Florida acquired title to the fabled Tidelands Oil riches through action of the 83rd Congress. It, carrying out a pledge made by President Eisenhower during the course of his campaign, nullified an earlier decision by the Supreme Court giving Tidelands to Uncle Sam. And under a program proposed by Sen. Lister Hill, the royalties from Tidelands were to be redistributed among all the 48 states for educational purposes.

Gov. Earl Warren of California, whose name was back in the headlines Monday as a result of a conference between him and Attorney General Herbert Brownell, never has been in the position of a vociferous advocate of California's claim to Tidelands Oil, although presumably he went along with his state's fight. Yet naturally because Gov. Warren's name has been among those believed to be receiving favorable consideration for appointment to succeed the late Chief Justice Vinson, the question of Mr. Warren's confirmation could precipitate his participation in any legal action over Tidelands. The issue is not too important. Chances are that if he moves on to the Supreme Court in the exalted position of chief justice, the California governor simply would disqualify himself from participating in the Tidelands case. Two of the members of the court did not sit when the

Of Men And Things

Total income of the people of a state, we take it, provides an acceptable measure of progress and development. If that be true, then Nebraskans may rejoice in the accomplishments of 1952. It set a record of total income well above the two-billion-dollar mark—2.15 billions of dollars, to be exact.

Farm income directly contributed more than half of the total of 1952 Nebraska income. Prices for farm commodities throughout most of 1952 had much to do with it. Magnificent harvests of grain coupled with a healthy condition in the basic livestock industry throughout most of the year was another impressive factor. Then a growing industrial development, a greater income from industry and business, particularly in the retail field, completed what obviously was a fine, golden year for Nebraskans. It was not difficult to recall the first time when Nebraska farm income alone exceeded the billion-dollar mark. That came in the war years when young Americans were fighting a stubborn foe on distant battlefields. Throughout most of those war years and in the postwar years that have followed, Nebraska farm-income has been in excess or only slightly below the billion-dollar mark, reflecting the uncertainties of a basic industry of agriculture.

Better machinery, improved varieties of seed, increasing attention given to soil conservation practices, or superior "know-how" all contribute to a better job of farming by the farmers of Nebraska. There is only one roadblock in this fine picture. That is the matter of moisture supplied by a whimsical nature. Put good black earth and water together and a reasonably sure, abundant harvest is assured. When water is in scarce supply, then nothing by way of human ingenuity will fill the gap.

We are likely to become thoughtless when the goose hangs high. The fact remains that in this growing season of 1953, a major crop, corn, fulfilled all expectations where irrigation water was available and was applied intelligently to the land. In a dry season, those fields of corn under irrigation will do quite all right at harvest time, and will fill storage facilities to fullest capacity with little deviation from those years of abundant rainfall. Out on the farms of Nebraska, they are getting ahead with this matter of most pressing importance. Hundreds of farmers in this state are sinking wells and acquiring pumps to take advantage of the vast subterranean water supplies to which Dr. George E. Condra has directed attention for so many years. In 1954 it is a reasonable expectation that we will irrigate more acres, if necessary, by pump irrigation than by storage or direct stream flow.

It is important and timely to keep that total 1952 income in mind. It is something to shoot for. These may be cheap dollars in terms of purchasing power—at least the politician frequently refers to them as such—but they are mighty handy to have around. And the dollar to which the politician points his finger as a good dollar means nothing in everyday living if it is hard or impossible to get. His kind of dollar rarely improves the status of the great mass of people. A full blow to Nebraska's 1952 income, greatest in the state's history.

Russell Hits Softness For Red-Aiding POW's

WASHINGTON—It isn't supposed to leak out, but Georgia's stern Sen. Dick Russell, leader of the Southern Democrats, wrote a blistering four-page letter to Secretary of Defense Wilson, taking him over the verbal coals for his softness toward POW collaborators.

A power in the Senate and No. 1 Democrat on the Armed Services Committee, Russell angrily demanded dishonorable discharges for POWs who signed false confessions or turned informer on their fellow prisoners.

This is the inside reason why Wilson suddenly shifted to a tougher attitude toward the prisoners. Previously he had taken the advice of the Armed Forces Policy Council, which argued that some prisoners had been tortured and brain-washed beyond endurance and were not morally responsible for their actions. As a result, he ordered the Armed Services to consider each case separately and sympathetically.

In his private letter to Wilson, the Georgia senator declared:

"If we are again compelled to take up arms in our defense with the idea prevalent that the Department of Defense does not distinguish between those who resisted heroically to the last breath as compared with the collaborators and false confessions, I do not see how we can expect the young men from 18 to 25 who must fight our wars, to measure up to what will be expected of them."

"Permit me to suggest," Russell continued, "that it is most important that either you or the President or the head of one of the defense agencies or some member of the Joint Chiefs of Staff make some statement which will let every young American serviceman and young man who will soon be in the service clearly understand that our government strongly disapproves of both collaborators and false confessions."

"My views may be extreme," Russell added forcefully, "but I believe that those who collaborated and the signers of false confessions should be immediately separated from the service under conditions other than honorable. . . . It is evident that the defense agencies under your direction hold other views."

The Georgian also telephoned Adm. Arthur Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and gave him the same view. The admiral listened sympathetically, but passed the buck to Wilson.

Note—The United States has asked the British to crack down on Alan Winnington, correspondent for the London Daily Worker, who helped torture American fliers into confessing a part in "germ warfare."

WASHINGTON WHIRL

Senate Labor Chairman Alex Smith has urged the White House not to name a new Secretary of Labor until Congress comes back. He argues that it will give opponents too much time to dig up ammunition against the appointee before he can be confirmed. . . . Sen. McCarran's boy wonder, Roy Cohn, has been trying to shush up the fact that he was once almost fired from the Justice Department. His father, a Democratic politician, pulled strings to get young Roy appointed to the New York district attorney's office. But the D. A., Myles Lane, soon had enough of him and threatened to fire him. Again the elder Cohn pulled Democratic strings, and then—Attorney General Jim McGranery transferred Roy out of Lane's jurisdiction. But McGranery also became fed up with the young man and notified him bluntly that he had two days to get out. Roy begged to be kept on, however, until he could transfer to McCarthy's committee. . . . Another McCarthy assistant, Don Surine, was fired from the FBI for conspiring with a lady in a white slavery case. This is a matter of sworn testimony in the U.S. District Court.

TROOPS OUT OF GERMANY

In a dramatic though secret bid to end the cold war before it erupts into an atomic-hydrogen war, German and Austrian diplomats have urged a new peace-by-negotiation play. They have sounded out Russia and the United States about withdrawing their forces from Germany and Austria.

The idea would be to break off contact between Russian and American forces in Europe, thereby reducing friction. Both sides would pull out of Central Europe, Germany and Austria, in turn, would then guarantee strict neutrality in the power struggle between East and West.

This is the first time Germany and Austria have taken the initiative in diplomatic negotiations since the end of World War II. Their diplomats, in sounding out the State Department about the disengagement plan, argue that Russia is now so preoccupied with domestic troubles that it might be willing to end the cold war and withdraw into its iron shell.

NOTE—Chief difficulty with the proposal, however, is that the Red army needs to withdraw only a few miles into Poland across the border from Germany and a few miles into Hungary and Czechoslovakia across the border from Austria. It could then move back to Austria in a few hours. The American army on the other hand would have to withdraw either to French bases which are not too happy about U.S. troops, or else back across the Atlantic.

MARQUIS CHILDS

Chief Justice Post Poses Tight Problem

WASHINGTON—When the Supreme Court convenes for the fall term, it will be without a chief justice. The present intension at the White House is to move cautiously and carefully in the selection of the No. 1 judicial officer of the United States.

This means that the views of a great many people will be weighed before the decision is taken. No chief justice since 1795 has taken his place on the bench without prior confirmation by the Senate, and in view of the momentous issues to be determined, this precedent is not likely to be broken.

On the last day of June when it recessed, the court had become entangled in the fierce emotions surrounding the last appeal of the atom spies, Julius and Ethel Rosenberg. Justice William O. Douglas, acting just after the court's term had ended, granted a stay to the Rosenbergs. Douglas then left on a motor trip.

Seven of the nine members of the court, including the late Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson, were still in Washington. Vinson was deeply disturbed. Two days before Douglas' action, the court had refused to stay the execution of the Rosenbergs in order to hear arguments of their lawyers. Douglas had voted with the majority against the motion of Justice Robert H. Jackson which would have put the Rosenberg case before the court for the first time.

Only a part of the drama of those tense days got into the news. Vinson felt that the court, by the seeming reversal of its stand almost from one day to the next, had suffered a serious blow. He felt so strongly on this score that he took a most unusual step. He telephoned Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell and the two held a long conference on the course to be followed.

As a consequence the chief justice summoned the court back to a special term, and at that meeting Douglas' stay was overruled. While few outside the members of his family knew of it, Vinson had some months before suffered a minor heart attack. Realizing that he was not well, his associates were concerned over the strain the Rosenberg case put on him.

While all this was going on, the White House was receiving daily cables from Ambassador Douglas Dillon in Paris saying that the uncertainty was further inflaming opinion in France, where an active left wing, anti-American propaganda campaign had been launched that was in theory in behalf of the Rosenbergs. At one point as the climax was reached, President Eisenhower agreed to receive a dele-

Garden Glances With The Moon

The waning moon is in the movable, watery and exceedingly fruitful sign, Cancer, this first Tuesday of autumn and fourth lunar quarter begins this afternoon at 3:51 p.m.

Thursday at 5:51 minutes past 12:00 noon, the decreasing moon will enter the fixed, fiery and barren sign, Leo. Very, very early Sunday morning, it will enter the flexed, earthy and dry sign, Virgo. Then next Tuesday at 1:28 in the afternoon, it will enter the movable, airy and fruitful sign, Libra.

One hears and reads so much about "fall-planted roses." I have transplanted roses from one spot in our garden to another in the autumn and then transplanted them again with great success, but each time it happened to be under excellent growing conditions. It would be a bit risky this autumn unless one takes special care that they have sufficient moisture right on into winter. Last week we transplanted three from one spot to another, and today not a single leaf shows wilt or over-shock from being moved. Naturally we were careful to lift them with quantities of soil around their roots and to give them plenty of water. Nor will we be so careless as to let the soil around them dry out until nature favors us with a good, gentle autumn rain.

There are two All-America Rose selections for 1953—4—"Mohave" and "Lillibet." "Mohave," a hybrid tea named for the sandy region in the West known as the Mohave Desert, is the most radiant orange blend yet developed in a rose. It has vigor and substance and will hold its color under hot and dry conditions. The buds are long and pointed on straight, tall stems and the leaves are large and glossy. "Mohave" is Herbert C. Swin's origination. "Lillibet," named for Queen Elizabeth II and originated by Robert Linquist, has perfectly formed buds that open into dainty, clear pink blooms in clusters typical of floribundas, and will be a charming asset to any garden.

I wonder how many of you know the floribunda, "Snowbank"? I saw it blooming in the Fitzpatrick garden last week, a perfect mass of white, flushed with salmon-pink. I was reminded of sunset on snow and wondered if the originator was so reminded, and hence the name.

Tulip-planting time is rapidly approaching, so get your soil in readiness. Is there one to compare with the first parrot tulip, "Fantasy"? "Blue Parrot," which is violet really, is lovely with "Fantasy." When planted alternately with "Sunshine," the yellow parrot, one has a bold color effect in the garden. Or a very striking picture may be had by planting "Sunshine" and "Fire-bird," the bright red one in alternation. They lend themselves beautifully to flower arrangements alone or with other spring flowers.

Food For Thought

Lincoln, Neb. To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I have just finished reading your editorial, "Spine-Tingling Preview," in this morning's edition of The Star (Sept. 26). How true! I'd like to ask if you were fortunate enough to see the television program earlier this week, entitled "1984"?

I wonder how many of us realize in full the warning, the complete immobilization of mind, body and soul imposed by "Big Brother," the villain in the play, warning us of the disaster in store for us much worse than any atomic or hydrogen bomb made could do to us? The destroying of material things and humanity by a bomb would be a blessing compared to the devastation that would prevail if the horror of "1984" were to come true. Mr. Dean probably knows whereof he speaks when he says Americans have to have a jolt to wake us up. We will have to pray that this coming jolt (if any) won't annihilate us while at a ball game or some similar diversion.

There was certainly food for thought in Friday morning's Star—Page 1, Col. 6, 7, 8; Page 2, Col. 5, second article; editorial page, Drew Pearson's column, especially "San Francisco's Chinatown"; Page 11, Col. 1, 2; and last, but not least, Page 8, Col. 1, 2.

God help us to get into gear before the "Big Brother" "thing" completely takes over before "1984." What do we do? When do we start? How do we go about it? This "thing" called Communism grows beyond Communism, the word, as we think of it. Perhaps a re-telecast of "1984" on both networks would do wonders toward a move in the right direction, start the nation thinking. "This 'thing' is an insidious, invisible horror, slowly and surely taking over our birthright, our minds and souls. 1984? Will it be that long before we find ourselves in abject obedience to a 'Big Brother' and his henchmen? I wonder. And don't disregard the strength of the henchmen! I think back to 1939, Hitler and the shadow of a Big Bear. I shuddered then, but I would pray for sudden death today before I should become one of the automatons portrayed in "1984."

Those interested in the information on our plan should write to 80 West Kingsbridge Road, New York City (68), N. Y. A Nebraska Team

Lincoln, Neb. To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The Nebraska football team in a greatly improved showing Saturday settled for a dismal tie when they could have had a glorious victory.

It is my humble opinion that Nebraska will never have a consistent, co-ordinated football team until Mr. Glassford concentrates on developing Nebraska boys. To build up others, it seems as though many good Nebraska boys have been slighted, discouraged, and as a result have become uninterested.

Safe As Ever

Lincoln, Neb. To the editor of The Lincoln Star: If the people don't go war-mad, it won't be because they haven't had enough of war propaganda. Today's radio reports and commentators are saying that Russia will blow us to atoms in 1970; another says we can look for it within a year or two—a divergence of 15 years. Just where do these gentlemen get their information on the matter? My opinion is that Russia doesn't want to be bombed any more than we do. We are as safe as ever—our planes and bombs are within a few minutes of bombing Russia, if Russia should start anything.

Success To The Chiefs

Kansas City, Mo. To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Nowadays I am reading The Lincoln Star, as it is the football season for Cornhuskers. But it was Sports Editor Anderson's story of the baseball situation in Lincoln in the Sept. 24 paper of which I am writing. I was glad to learn that sports followers in Lincoln had responded to the fine showing of the team over the entire season. If the games won and lost were considered after the club had a chance to play real baseball, Lincoln would have been right up at the top of the league. Usually a hopelessly tail-end team just quits, which makes this team's record particularly outstanding.

I am sure the necessary money will be forthcoming to finance the club adequately, but perhaps the enclosed check can be used as well. Since I began writing this letter, the memory of "Cy" Sherman comes into focus. He was always the leading spirit in getting Western League baseball for Lincoln. Why not dedicate the present drive for funds to him?

Success to the men who will give their time and energy to the financial drive, and success to the 1954 edition of the Lincoln Chiefs.

U.S. Air Force Denies Keyhoe's Flying Saucers Claim

WASHINGTON (INS) — An expert on "flying saucers" claimed Monday that the Air Force has movies which prove that the mysterious objects are craft from another planet. Retired Marine Corps Maj. Donald E. Keyhoe said the pictures were taken over Tremonton, Utah, on July 2, 1952, but were never disclosed because a group of officers decided such action "was not in the public interest." The Air Force promptly denied it has kept the movies under wraps. A spokesman said the owner of the films—Navy W.O. Delbert C. Newhouse—can make them public if he wants. The spokesman added that the Air Force still believes weather conditions are the cause of the saucers—and not men from another planet.

According to Keyhoe, whose book "Flying Saucers from 'Outer Space'" will be published soon, the movies show a formation of round, glowing objects maneuvering at high speed over Tremonton. He said Air Force and Navy photographic experts spent months analyzing the films and officially concluded that they could not be aircraft of any known type. Keyhoe said another analysis of unidentified flying objects was made after the summer of 1952. He quoted Albert M. Chop, a former Air Force press official, as saying, on the basis of this study: "If the apparently controlled maneuvers reported by many competent observers are correct, then the only remaining explanation is the interplanetary answer."

Crosby Seeking Federal Aid For Hitchcock County

President Eisenhower was asked by Gov. Robert Crosby to designate parts of Hitchcock County as drought emergency area.

The governor said he acted on the unanimous recommendation of the State Drought Committee.

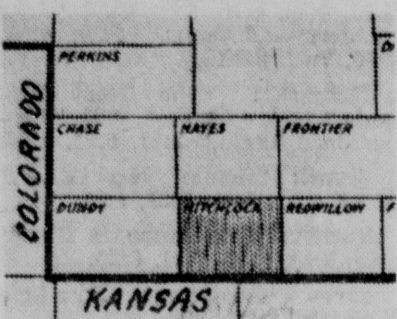

Members of the State Production and Marketing Administration Committee, led by Parr Young, and Prof. Marvel Baker, representing the State Agricultural Extension Service, conferred with the governor.

Crosby said the parts of the county recommended to the President for emergency aid would be designated by the County PMA Committee.

The text of the letter from Crosby to the President:

"Representatives of the state extension service the Production and Marketing Administration and the Farmers Home Administration having made an extensive survey believe that a drought emergency area now exists in Hitchcock County, Neb., and believe that the livestock producers in this area are entitled to receive the benefits which are provided for by the drought emergency program under Public Law 875 of the 81st Congress.

"As governor of Nebraska, I received a petition to the effect that I request you to declare Hitchcock County and such other areas in the state as may subsequently be designated by the State U.S.D.A. Drought Committee, as a part of the drought disaster area.

Otoe County Watershed Is Granted Okay

OMAHA (AP) — The Brownell Creek watershed in Nebraska's Otoe County has received final official approval as one to participate in the federal government's watershed protection program, Rep. Roman L. Hruska (R-Neb.) was advised.

The watershed was not one of those originally designated as a pilot project under the appropriation provided by the recent Congress but became eligible after some of the original ones failed to qualify.

"Congress fixed a $28,706,000 ceiling on cost to the federal government in a five-year period on the watershed program throughout the nation.

The Brownell Creek program will cost the federal government not to exceed $400,000 with local interests contributing at least an equal amount.

As one of the pilot projects, the Brownell program "will also serve to demonstrate the willingness and ability of local interests to co-operate with the federal government in solving their watershed problems," Rep. Hruska was informed.

New Defense Job Pleases Seaton

Fred A. Seaton of Hastings, assistant U. S. defense secretary, finds his new job interesting and one with considerable challenge.

He disclosed this upon arrival in Lincoln en route to Hastings on personal business. He plans to return to Washington sometime next week.

Seaton, who is publisher of The Hastings Daily Tribune, said he likes his job, which is to work with Congressional leaders, the White House and government agencies on legislation affecting defense and to manage the public information section of the Defense Department.

Mrs. Seaton, who met her husband at the Lincoln airport, and the three Seaton children will remain in Hastings until a change of residence can be made in accordance with the children's school plans and a suitable home can be found in Washington. The eldest of the Seaton children, Donald, 13, was met in Washington Saturday by his father. He has been enrolled in St. James School in Hagerstown, Md.

War Is Declared On Bean Shooters

OMAHA (AP)—Omaha police declared war on bean shooters Monday.

The "weapons" have been showing up at high school football games.

Youngsters caught using the shooters at public gatherings will be brought to the station, released to their parents and be required to attend Saturday morning classes in safety, according to Police Inspector Ray Strong. Youths over 16 using the shooters will be charged with disturbing the peace, he said.

"One of these pellets could cause permanent injury to an eye or ear of an innocent victim," Strong observed.

Omahan Was Red 'Problem' POW

OMAHA (AP) — Cpl. Santiago (Jim) Varela of Omaha as one of what he said were called "problem children" during his incarceration in a Communist prisoner of war camp during the Korean conflict.

Cpl. Varela said he was one of 209 prisoners called "problem children" because they resisted Communist indoctrination efforts. The "problem children" were banded together and isolated, he said.

"Almost all the prisoners had red, white and blue blood in their veins," he said. "And we had no use for those few who traded the safety of their buddies and their allegiance to their country for wine, candy, cigarettes and better chow."

Of those Americans refusing repatriation, Varela said: "I can tell you that some of them want to come back but they don't dare."

The Truth About Hormones To Make Skin Look Young

As I write this article, I can look through the doorway and see a woman of 45 waiting in the outer office. The light is good. I see her clearly.

She looks 10 years younger today than she did a month ago. What about about this amazing change? An estrogenic hormone cream.

Reams have been written about hormone creams. Will they make women of 75 look 16 again? Absolutely not! Will they make women of 60 feel like they are 20 again? Only in a way I shall explain later.

To know the truth about hormone creams, you need to learn just two simple facts: 1. The beauty of a woman's skin starts breaking down as signs of menopause begin because the female organs fail to supply enough estrogenic hormones to feed the skin—less and less as you grow older. 2. Estrogenic hormones can be supplied to the skin by rubbing a cream containing the hormones.

Here is a test reported in a scientific journal, one of many that showed similarly sensational results: Fifty women applied a hormone cream to one side of the face and neck, and to the other hand, a similar cream containing no hormones was applied in the same way.

These are the reported results in simple words: Skin lines (or wrinkles) quickly dimmed or disappeared from sight as creases and hollows filled out.

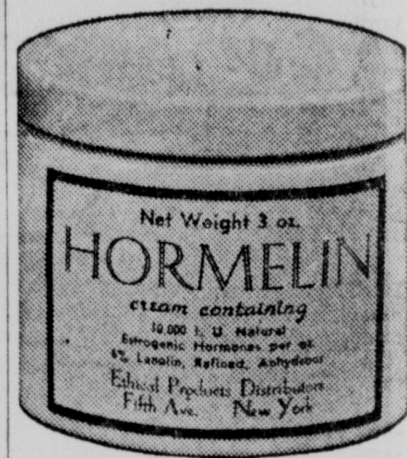

Blotches and "old-age freckles" faded on hands, face and neck.

Skin was softer, clearer, seemed to lose its chronic dryness, and take on revived freshness and vitality.

All these amazing things happened on the side where the hormone cream was used. Meanwhile no changes occurred on the other side. The same withered, lifeless complexion!

Still another scientist reports in effect, improvement in the skin of women past menopause was striking. These women looked like the years had been turned back toward their youthful "pre-change" appearance.

I have seen this myself. I have seen the improvement so rapid that in just two days women looked younger. And what a lift to the spirits! I cannot truthfully say that women of 60 felt like they were 20 again.

It contains 30,000 I.U. of natural estrogenic hormones to the jar and 6 percent pure lanolin. It says so right on the label. What is more this potency is guaranteed. I consider it a bargain at 2.00. If you want to see whether your dreams of a younger looking skin—with wrinkles dimmed, color and texture improved—can come true, I suggest you go right down and get a jar of Hormelin. Soldier's Parents Still Uncertain Of Son's Whereabouts OMAHA (P) — The end of the fighting in Korea has brought no end to the uncertainty in the minds of Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Marcuzzo.

They still do not know the fate of their soldier son, Salvatore, 21, better known as Teddy.

The Department of the Army has no record of Pvt. Marcuzzo being killed, wounded or missing in action. It has, however, promised to try to find out.

All the Marcuzzos know is that on July 15, two weeks before the armistice, Teddy apparently was one of 20 men to go on a patrol. Only two returned to the company area. The fate of the others is unknown.

The Marcuzzos have only a second-hand report from a buddy that Teddy was seen alive in a hospital in Korea.

Supreme Court Tax Ruling Asked

OMAHA (P) — Omaha Attorney Max Fromkin said Monday he has asked the Nebraska Supreme Court to assume jurisdiction of a suit which contends that all real estate in Douglas County is now improperly valued and assessed for tax purposes.

If the high court rejects the request, the suit will be brought first in District Court, Fromkin said.

The suit asks the court to nullify the action of the Douglas County Board of Equalization in raising assessed valuation for tax purposes in the county.

Army Says Report 'Not Red Propaganda'

Document 'Loaded'—Russians

WASHINGTON (AP)—A pair of fugitive Russians and a former top American Red told Senate investigators Monday an Army report used to train intelligence officers is loaded with Communist propaganda.

The Army contends the document, called "Psychological and Cultural Traits in Soviet Siberia" isn't Red propaganda at all and was intended merely to give intelligence officers a picture of the Russian people for use in event of war.

Criticized By Budenz

But Louis Budenz, a high level communist party official in this country for 10 years, told a senate Investigations Subcommittee, headed by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis):

"In my opinion, this document... is the work of a concealed Communist."

Igor Bogolepov, who said he is a former Soviet diplomat and Army officer now under a Kremlin death sentence, described the report as "extremely damaging."

"I find there is a lot of deliberate misinformation that serves the Communist cause," he testified.

A tall man of 49 with a thick Russian accent, Bogolepov said the report is dangerous because it is confusing and "because it gives some things that are true as a cover to make you swallow the things that are not true."

The witness said he was "extremely appalled and frightened" to discover some parts of the report are almost word for word the same as quotations from such Soviet leaders as Lenin and Stalin. And he said there is nothing to identify the quotations as such.

Calls It 'Harmful'

Vladimir Petrov, a Yale University faculty member who was imprisoned in Siberia for six years, described the report as "extremely biased in favor of the Soviet regime in Russia." As a training manual for American intelligence officers, he said, the pamphlet would be "definitely harmful."

A slender man of 37, with a stiff pompadour haircut, Petrov said the author of the document "twists and distorts" and tries to prove that Communists are loved by the Russian people.

McCarthy said an Army major, whose name he withheld, is responsible for preparing the report and will be called before the subcommittee later.

Mrs. Luther Rites To Be Wednesday

Funeral services for Mrs. Alice T. Luther, 83, of 2312 S. will be held at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday at Sacred Heart Church. The Rev. H. B. Hart will officiate. Burial will be in Wyuka.

Mrs. Luther, a resident of Lincoln for 15 years, died Monday. Born in Bridgewater, Ontario, Canada, she was the widow of Peter Paul Luther.

She was a member of Sacred Heart parish, the Altar Society of the church and Royal Neighbors.

Rosary will be recited at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at Hodgman-Splain Chapel.

Surviving are four daughters, Mrs. James Kenney, Mrs. R. L. Leavitt and Mrs. R. L. Benting, all of Lincoln, and Mrs. Ernest Retzlaff of Walton; one son, Lawrence P. of Lincoln; 12 grandchildren, and eight great grandchildren.

Dave Pierson, Exchange Student Report On Progress In Germany

Everyone in Germany seems to be "getting along just fine," Dave Pierson of 2836 Cedar reports following a two-month visit in Munich.

Pierson, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Pierson, was sent as an exchange student by the American Field Service to live with a German family for the summer. One of 240 young Americans selected as exchange students, Pierson lived with the Dr. Albert von Miller family during July and August.

"I was just one of the family," he said. "It was just like I had lived there all my life."

Western Germany seems to be in good shape economically, he said, when asked if he noticed such things as food shortages. They all seem to be "on their feet again," he said.

Pierson said he didn't even realize there was a political campaign going on until one of his German friends told him. The Germans didn't seem to get excited about politics, he said. They just listened to campaign speeches and voted.

"There was none of the humdrum of an American political year," he said.

Little Contact

The people of Munich, he said, were very happy to see the East German riots early this summer. The family with whom he lived had relatives in the Russian zone but had very little contact with them.

Pierson, who just celebrated his 18th birthday, said he fit "right in the middle" of the Miller family. They had children 21, 19, and 15-year-old twins. Dr. Miller is director of the Munich Art Museum.

The Millers took him on many trips through Germany and surrounding countries. Pierson was very enthusiastic about his two-week visit to Italy.

The Germans and Italians like each other a great deal, he said. The Italians are very friendly, he said, and agree to everything you say.

Pierson said he is very anxious

Mrs. Roberts, 82, Dies At Fremont

FREMONT, Neb. (Lincoln Star Special)—Funeral services for Mrs. W. W. Roberts, 82, longtime Nebraskan, will be held at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday at the Bader Funeral Home here.

A Nebraskan for the first 50 years of her life, she lived in the Fremont, North Bend and Oakland vicinities. She lived at Hermosa Beach, Calif., for 30 years before moving to Fremont to make her home with her son, H. H. Roberts.

In addition to her son, she is survived by two other sons, R. E. Roberts of Fremont and Warren T. Roberts of Lincoln; five grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

School Stop Sign Study Shows Care Is Still Necessary

Are school stop signs really effective?

The State Highway Department has come up with a study that indicates the answer is partly yes and partly no. A study made near Waverly showed that 85 per cent of the motorists halted their vehicles at one of eight different signs used in the survey.

At the least effective sign the percentage stopping dropped to 59.2.

But the department doesn't stop there. It points out that in addition to the motorists that don't stop, there may be a tendency for children to develop a sense of false security because of the school signs—not only at these locations but at points where there are no signs at all. So, the report comments, parents should be on their toes to train their children as to the hazards of street crossing.

Diesing Named Crosby's Aid

James J. Diesing, 30, Omaha attorney and state chairman of the Young Republicans, will become administrative assistant to Gov. Robert Crosby on Nov. 1, he announced Monday. He succeeds Max Denney who resigned to return to his law firm in Fairbury.

It was originally planned that Denney would remain until the first of the year. He announced on taking the job that he probably would not remain for more than a year. He managed the governor's campaign.

Diesing is a 1950 graduate of the Creighton University Law College, is a World War II veteran and at present is a special representative for the Northern Natural Gas Co. His salary in the state job will be $7,500 yearly.

He is married and has a daughter, 5, and a son, 2.

How many corporations in your home?

"I just read that booklet called Investment Facts, which tells about cash dividends paid by some 300 top companies," writes a woman.

"I found something you ought to emphasize. 'My refrigerator maker, I discover, has paid dividends for 54 years. (I could have had a few shares in that company.) You named at least four drug firms, all of which have products on my medicine shelf."

"My husband's shirt manufacturer was named. About a dozen food companies we know well. The maker of our linoleum, our car, our gasoline. Our telephone company. Our electric company. All in all, I counted thirty such products in my home."

"Every one of these companies paid what I call good dividends. I think you ought to point out how many such corporations are in everyone's home."

Agreed. And millions of people not only rely on the products of America's famous corporations, they also own shares in them. These people are in business with their companies—sharing in the profits they may make and the risk that goes with any enterprise. What's more, over two million of these men and women have incomes under $5,000.

Postponement Of Zone Changes Voted Down

A resolution by Councilman Rees Wilkinson to table all zoning requests without action until the proposed new zoning law was corrected and passed was lost before the City Council for want of a second.

Many zoning changes that are being made now, said the councilman, will become non-conforming under the new zoning law. It is foolish, he said, to grant such changes.

AMM-I-DENT

Anti-Enzyme Action

The Amazing Invisible Decay Barrier!
You can't see it, feel it or taste it—but it's there! Amm-i-dent's major anti-enzyme ingredient acts continually to help ward off attack by enzyme-produced acids. Every tooth is protected while this invisible decay barrier is in effect!

Saturday Evening Post, American Weekly and Better Homes and Gardens give unbiased, conservative reports on anti-enzyme action. Remember, Amm-i-dent did not sponsor these articles, nor the research behind them; nor is Amm-i-dent named. Be sure to read them!

New Hope for Security from Decay came first with ammoniated Amm-i-dent. Now, research shows that Amm-i-dent's anti-enzyme ingredient gives continuing protection. Brush morning and night. The average family will have far fewer cavities with Amm-i-dent!

More Dentists Recommend Amm-i-dent Than Any Other Toothpaste in America! Dentists knew about the anti-enzyme theory of tooth decay prevention before the general public. They know what toothpaste is best! They recommend Amm-i-dent more than any other.

GIVES YOU A DECAY BARRIER

AROUND EACH AND EVERY TOOTH IN YOUR MOUTH!

YOU CAN'T SEE IT, TASTE IT OR FEEL IT—BUT IT'S THERE!

Anti-enzyme action brings new hope of defeating tooth decay for good and all. And Amm-i-dent Toothpaste brings you anti-enzyme action, two ways:

1. Instantaneously, with an ingredient which removes the vast majority of all enzyme-producing bacteria from the surface of the teeth.
2. Continuously, with an ingredient that actually stays in the mouth with an enzyme-inhibiting action.

This is the astonishing decay barrier, which surrounds each and every tooth in your mouth with double, long-lasting protection. There's never been anything like it to protect against cavities! Amm-i-dent's ammoniated, anti-enzyme formula is patented and exclusive.

Think what Amm-i-dent's decay barrier with anti-enzyme action can mean — particularly to the children. Remember the cavities you've had, and count how many the children may be spared by this wonderful discovery!

Both Amm-i-dent Chlorophyll Toothpaste and regular pure white Amm-i-dent have Amm-i-dent's anti-enzyme formula that sets up a decay barrier around each and every tooth. You can get it at your stores right now.

Truman Says Foreign Policy Must Include Willingness To Negotiate

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Truman said Thursday night our foreign policy must include willingness "to seek in all sincerity solutions of our differences with the Soviet bloc through patient and peaceful negotiation."

Negotiation, Truman said, should be approached "in firm agreement with our Allies and from a position of united strength."

Truman

The former president, here to receive the annual four freedoms award, said in a speech at the annual dinner that willingness to negotiate is one of the basic pillars of our foreign policy, to be supported "regardless of partisanship."

Saying that "a return to isolationism would be the road to disaster," Truman listed these other basic policies to be defended:

Strong Defense

"A renewed and re-invigorated reciprocal trade program; a strong defense—a really strong defense; Support of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization; Support of European unity; Support of the Rio pact; Support of the Pacific alliance; Technical assistance and economic aid for the underdeveloped countries; Support of the United Nations."

Calling for "sympathy and understanding for our friends, even when they differ with us," Truman added:

"I do not say this out of any mere 'softness' toward foreigners. I say it in the interest of the United States. x x x

"Let no American think it has been 'charity' that led us into that great series of mutual undertakings from lend-lease through the Marshall Plan to the Mutual Security Program of today. It was not charity alone, but self-preservation.

"It was self-preservation, but it was more than that—it was also the way, the only way, to move us forward toward the great goals of the four freedoms.

"Only the whole free community—we and our Allies together, our resources and theirs combined—is strong enough and big enough to meet the threat to freedom and give us victory for freedom's cause."

Truman called the four freedoms still our best hope for the future despite the "weariness and cynicism of recent years." At the same time he cautioned that the American people cannot leave the protection of these freedoms to the courts, or to legislators and administrators.

"Free men can preserve them only if they are militant about freedom," he said. "We ought to get angry when these rights are violated and make ourselves heard until the wrong is righted. x x x

"In the cause of freedom, we have to battle for the rights of people with whom we do not agree, and whom, in many cases, we may not like. These people test the strength of the freedoms which protect all of us."

Suspicion Stirred

Saying the Soviet rulers have made plain their plan to spread dissection and distrust among free nations, Truman added:

"All across our country there are people at work, stirring up suspicion of the United Nations, of our Allies, of our own public servants, of our fellow citizens. All across the country there are zealots who are clamoring for somebody's head. x x x

"This whole miserable business may be more intense, but is not so very different from the ugly tactics of the diehard isolationists of 12 years ago. Indeed, here are basically the same people, the same faces, the old isolationists become by dint of circumstance the new nationalists, the new imperialists. x x x

"And underneath all the complaints and bickering there lies a deep feeling—a sort of unformulated wish or hope—that if we could only turn away from these international problems, and just mind our own private, individual affairs at home for a while, everything would be all right."

"These are the strident voices of the few. x x x But happily they do not, and never have, represented the will and spirit of the American people."

Osteopathic Group Traces Rapid Growth

The "rapid growth of the profession in 75 years" was traced before Nebraska Osteopathic Association members and guests by Dr. True B. Eveleth of Chicago, Ill., who was featured speaker at the convention's banquet Monday night at the Cornhusker Hotel.

Dr. Eveleth, executive assistant of the American Osteopathic Association, said membership today totals 12,500; that six osteopathic schools accredited by the AOA graduate 500 students annually and osteopaths are licensed in all 48 states with unlimited practice in 33, including both surgery and medicine.

Earlier in the day, Dr. Eveleth discussed integration of the AOA and divisional (state) societies. Also speaking was Milton McKay of Chicago, AOA general counselor, who aired solutions to legal and legislative problems.

Dr. E. B. Drost of North Platte, Nebraska association president, presided at the two-day meeting which open Monday.

Leading professional discussions were given by Dr. Ober Reynolds and Dr. Fred V. Hetzler of the Kirksville (Mo.) Osteopathic hospital, and L. O. Vose, director of the State Health Department's division of laboratories.

Four professional seminars are scheduled for Tuesday in addition to the annual business meeting of the state convention.

Approximately 40 association members were registered Monday for the two-day meet. Some 60 persons attended the evening banquet.

Duplicating America's costliest cars, feature after feature, Ford is worth more when you buy it . . . worth more when you sell it!

A FEW MINUTES on the telephone calling the dealers who sell America's finest cars will reveal there are at least eleven models among four makes with price tags over $4,000! In fact, dealers in one make will take an order for a beauty costing $7,000.

Now the interesting thing is that in feature after feature the Ford car duplicates each one of these fine cars, and for less than half the fine car price!

If you will look under the hood of the most expensive cars—even the one for $7,000—what do you find?

A V-8 Engine!

Well, the Ford car has a V-8, too. In fact, it has had V-8 power since 1932, and since that time Ford has built more V-8's—by millions—than all other manufacturers combined. And there's no other builder in Ford's price range that's seen fit to offer one yet!

Another point—though Ford's Strato-Star V-8 turns out a tidy 110 horsepower, it's not the number alone that counts. It's the kind of power you get out of the engine—through the transmission—that tells the story. And, what you get out of the Ford V-8 with any of the three transmission options we offer—Fordomatic, Overdrive and Conventional—is written in letters of "go" wherever there is a road.

But the engine, as fine as it is, is only many things that make a fine car fine.

There are the controls, the comfort refinements—all the things that make a car more than a piece of machinery—rather a part of you!

Automatic shifting, for example. All the fine cars offer it in one form or another because it's one of the things that make a fine car fine. But if you've never driven a Ford with Fordomatic you've missed one of the finer things of life. This amazing transmission not only does away with clutching and shifting forever—it gives you exactly the amount of power you want, when you want it—automatically. And, without delay. Some so-called automatics still require a clutch pedal and take their own sweet time to get you going. Not Fordomatic. With either the V-8 or Six, Fordomatic says "yes" when you say "go."

Fine car power steering, too. The big, heavy costly cars offer it for the same reason they offer power brakes. It's a man-sized job for a 120 pound woman to handle a car weighing two tons or more without it—especially when parking. Our "Master-Guide" has two distinct benefits.

First, it gives a hydraulic power assist right down at the wheels and just enough to take out the work. You don't lose one particle of control—rather your control is more complete and far easier.

Second, being hydraulic, "Master-Guide" power steering absorbs those fatiguing steering wheel tremors caused by ruts and roads in bad repair. Incidentally, this is a great safety advantage, because the car is so much easier to control in the case of a tire blow-out or hitting a soft shoulder unexpectedly. And road wander due to a cross wind is something you can forget about. And you don't pay a fine car price for "Master-Guide."

But there is another fine car feature—the Ford ride. Books have been written on the subject of riding quality in an automobile, but the payoff comes on the pavement—or lack of it! Many people associate a comfortable ride with excess weight, but it's not weight alone that makes for comfort. If it were, those big five-ton trucks which you see every day would be the most comfortable vehicles on the road.

Without being technical we can tell you that what's been done with the suspension and springing system gives the Ford a softer ride, a smoother ride than many cars which tip the scales at better than an added half ton. What's more, Ford engineers have found out how to cut front end road shock up to 80%—something many of the others haven't! Even roads you'd avoid entirely in many cars become not just passable—but passable in comfort. And, when you round a curve, you do it on the level—one of the advantages of another fine car feature—Ford's wide front tread.

And speaking of ride, we'd also like to point out that all seats—front and rear—in a Ford are cushioned in foam rubber, and at no extra cost.

What about room? Here's an interesting point. If you've felt that only a costly car offered enough room, you just ought to sit down in a Ford even if you're out-size and six feet four! The so-called big car is bigger on the outside, to be sure, but unless you buy a limousine with those little jump seats, it's not one passenger bigger inside.

Every standard Ford model carries six—with the exception of the Business Coupe, and of course, the Country Sedan and Country Squire which carry eight—with ease. And, as for "baggage room"—Ford trunk compartments measure better than 26 cubic feet. That's a full suitcase larger than most cars on the road today!

Visibility is another fine car Ford feature. We say Ford cars offer "full-circle" visibility because they all have huge, curved one-piece windshields and a huge rear window to match . . . plus side windows that mean every passenger gets room with a view! You will enjoy the extra safety of full-circle visibility every mile you drive—the absence of "blind spots" made possible by the large glass areas and narrower corner posts.

How beautiful is a Ford? A great English poet, John Keats, once wrote "Beauty is Truth, Truth Beauty"—well, he could have been writing about our car for its beauty comes from honest, clean lines in every dimension. In fact, we think most people agree—even our competitors—that the appearance of a Ford Car leaves very little to be desired. It is "at home" wherever it goes and it goes everywhere.

So there you have it—the features and reasons that make a fine car fine as far as control, good looks and comfort are concerned.

But what about Ford quality? Does it too match the fine car? Is the sheet metal of the body panels as thick? Is the finish as good? How about the trim and things like that? Well, as far as we can determine, the sheet metal is identical in thickness in practically all instances. As to finish—we believe Ford's baked-on enamel has no equal in any car. Ford upholstery fabrics and trim are less costly, to be sure, but they're less delicate, too, and if anything, more durable.

How then is it possible to give you this fine car at half the fine car price?

Part of the answer lies in Ford manufacturing skills and knowledge as evidenced by the V-8 engine. Part of it comes from the ever increasing numbers of cars Ford produces and the economies they make possible. And, part of it comes from Ford's willingness to give greater values than might be expected in cars selling in Ford's price range. That's the Ford idea.

Summing up. All these things add up to a fact that a prudent man cannot overlook. Ford Cars are not only worth more when you buy—but also worth more when you sell, as proved by the prices Ford used cars bring in the used car markets throughout the country.

No wonder Ford is proving to be America's finest fine-car buy!

Fun In Scotland

Summer is a thing of the past, but Miss Erminda Clarke has many memories of it to sustain her through the remainder of the year — Miss Clarke, just home from Europe, is shown visiting with a kilted soldier — one of the guards of the garrison at Edinburgh castle—while visiting in Edinburgh in August. Miss Clarke planned to Europe early in July, landed at the Shannon airport and started her trek through 12 foreign countries from there. The visit to Edinburgh was one of the just-before-leaving-for-home "musts."

Faculty Club Series

The series of informal neighborhood meetings of the members of the University of Nebraska Faculty Women's Club will continue this week and will begin at 9:30 o'clock Tuesday morning with a coffee at the home of Mrs. H. O. Werner, 3310 Dudley. Assisting hostesses will be Mrs. Ed Janike and Mrs. Warren Sahn.

Also on Tuesday morning, a coffee will be held at 10 o'clock at the home of Mrs. John Champe, 1917 So. 27th, when assisting hostess will be Mrs. Lloyd Teal.

Wednesday evening, Mrs. Roy Green will entertain a group at a 7:30 o'clock dessert supper to be held at her home, 1845 South 41st. She will be assisted by Mrs. Duane Lake, Mrs. Ben Burma and Mrs. Richard Bourne.

A neighborhood group will be entertained at a 2 o'clock tea, Wednesday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. A. D. Worcester, 2035 Harwood. Mrs. George W. Peterson will be co-hostess and assisting will be Mrs. William B. Cole and Mrs. George Ernst.

On Thursday afternoon, from 2:30 o'clock to 4:30 o'clock, another group will meet at the home of Mrs. H. W. Manter, 1300 North 41st, when Mrs. M. D. Weldon will be assisting hostess. Another Thursday hostess will be Mrs. F. R. Woodring who will entertain a group at tea from 2 o'clock to 3:30 o'clock at her home, 870 South 36th. Mrs. Woodring will be assisted by Mrs. Orin Stepanek and Mrs. Paul Deines.

The last of this week's series will be a 2 o'clock to 4 o'clock tea Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. T. S. Thorfinson, 3333 M. Assisting hostesses will be Mrs. Philip Kelly and Mrs. Walter Wright.

ALSO TAKING off on Oct. 10, will be Mr. and Mrs. Paulding Smith who are flying to Spain—After several days in Madrid, and numerous other interesting Spanish cities, Mr. and Mrs. Smith will go to Rome, and from there branch out through the country — From Italy they will go to Switzerland — from there to Germany, France, and then to England to spend some time. There will be a stop at Copenhagen, too, before the Smiths return homeward— And after hearing about the traveling Mr. and Mrs. Smith plan to do we've decided we're in the wrong business—You see, the Smiths are going with rather a large group—the American Society of Travel Agents who will gather from all spots in the world — Japan, India, the north, the south, the Far East and everywhere, for the trip.

ON THE homecomers list this morning are Dr. and Mrs. Fred Ferciot and Mr. and Mrs. Arnott Folsom who returned Monday from a fishing expedition to the Pacific northwest—We'll pass on the fish stories at a later date.

AND ALSO back in town are Dr. and Mrs. William Rotton who spent several weeks in the east. Dr. and Mrs. Rotton went first to northern New York and from there went to Florham Park, N. J., where they were the guests of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Edward McConnell—There were several days spent in New York City, where Dr. and Mrs. Rotton visited their son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. William Rotton Jr., before the travelers went on to Washington, D. C., to be the guests of Mrs. Rotton's sister, Mrs. Paul Sweet.

UNDERSTAND there were some guests in town during the week-end—Mrs. C. A. Armstrong and Miss Florence Curtis, both of Clinton, Ia., who were the guests of their sister, Mrs. C. B. Towle.

AND THAT reminds us that we wanted to tell you yesterday that Mrs. L. F. Baum of Philadelphia, Pa., is a guest at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Gold.

THINK NOW we'll chatter about parties for a bride-elect or two—Last evening Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Baylor were an informal dinner host and hostess at their home when they honored

Miss Jane Traphagen and her fiancé, Homer Allen Yates of Norwalk, Conn., whose marriage will take place on Saturday evening.

AND WE hear that Miss Phoebe Dempster of Beatrice, whose marriage to Donald Hamann will be an event of Friday, Oct. 16, is the incentive for a dinner on Friday evening at the University club for which Miss Barbara Stephens will be hostess. Miss Dempster will be presented with a vase shower. On the following day (Saturday) Miss Marian Brown of Papillion and Miss Joy Nixon will honor Miss Dempster when they are dessert luncheon hostesses at Hotel Cornhusker. The soon-to-be bride will be presented with a linen shower.

SPEAKING OF brides-to-be—Hear that Miss Harriet Wenke has chosen Saturday, Nov. 21, as the date of her marriage to James R. Campbell of Sheridan, Wyo. The ceremony will be solemnized at the Westminster Presbyterian Church.

TOO BAD Walter and Betty Nolte of Seguin, Tex., formerly of Lincoln, didn't win the mink coat, the new car and the trip to Switzerland on TV's Big Payoff Sunday evening — We would have been happy to whisper the answer to the last question in Mr. Nolte's ear—only we'd forgotten all about the Battle of White Plains. Anyway, Mrs. Nolte was as pert and pretty on TV, as she really is and her share of the Payoff included dozens of pairs of shoes, blouses, skirts, perfume and such things.

SOMEONE TOLD us that a Lincoln sixsome would be going to Beatrice on Thursday to be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hale McCown—The men go for an afternoon of golf at the Beatrice Country Club, and will be joined by their wives for dinner—Included in the group from Lincoln will be Dr. and Mrs. Robert Stein, Mr. and Mrs. Flavel Wright and Mr. and Mrs. John Dudgeon.

CAN'T STOP talking this ayem until we tell you that Dr. and Mrs. F. A. Pierson Jr., were elected president of the Revelers Club at a pre-season party the members had Sunday evening at East Hills. Named to serve as vice president were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Glenn; secretary, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ammon; treasurer, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Martin. The new board members are Mr. and Mrs. Chan Tyrrell, the retiring president couple, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Cooper.

Mrs. Jaycees Hold Annual Tea

The annual membership tea of the Mrs. Jaycees, wives of the Junior Chamber of Commerce members, was held Sunday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Jones.

Greeting the guests were Mrs. William Hastings, group president, and Mrs. Herb Henry, membership chairman, and hostesses for the tea were Mrs. Palmer, Mrs. William Reiske, Mrs. Julius Ross and Mrs. Robert Wilson.

Guest Is Honored

Visiting in Lincoln is Mrs. Porter Gaddis of Ocean Grove, N. J., who with Mr. Gaddis is the house guest of Mr. Gaddis' son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Joy Deuser.

Mr. Gaddis, a former Lincoln resident and a member of the faculty of the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture, has made his home at Ocean Grove since his retirement several years ago.

On Monday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Deuser entertained in courtesy to their guests at an informal reception held between the hours of 7 o'clock and 10 o'clock at their home.

hair care

by Robert Curley

Do you know how to keep your hair always beautifully styled, so lustroously lovely that your friends can't help complimenting you on it? It's the beauty secret of thousands of women throughout the country... and it can be yours today. Best of all, it's so easy anyone can do it! It works with all kinds of hair... is effective with or without a permanent. (If you have a permanent, it helps restore lustre to dried-out hair, do away with frizziness and unsightly split ends... actually makes your permanent last longer.)

The heart of the method is Robert Curley Hair Conditioner. Its high LANOLIN content (it contains more Lanolin than any other hair conditioner on the market!) works wonders with the most difficult hair—gives it back its natural beauty... brings out waves and curls you never knew you had. And you can do it right in your own home!

It's easy as ABC!

A. Put your hair up in pin curls. (If it's time for your shampoo, don't put it off. Beautiful hair is clean hair. And Robert Curley Lanolin Shampoo leaves your hair silky, lustrous, much easier to manage.) Use Robert Curley Hair Conditioner as your setting lotion. It gives you a tighter, livelier curl, conditions your hair as it sets.

B. After your hair is dry and before combing it out, pour a very little Hair Conditioner on the palms of your hands—rub until thoroughly dry. Then pull and stretch hair, from scalp out to the ends. Repeat until every strand of hair has taken on new curl and lustre. Watch in the mirror. You'll see your hair glow with new beauty right before your eyes. You'll feel a healthy springiness, new body, a wonderful softness in every strand.

C. Take the Robert Curley Hair Styler and comb your hair. Watch it take on a polished loveliness it never had before. Then simply go ahead and arrange it with the Styler any way you please! You'll find you can really work with your hair, make it do exactly what you want. It will stay in place as you comb it, and all through the day. And if you keep your Styler handy, in your purse or drawer or dresser top, you can change your hair style in a minute... just as easily as you change your hat... whenever you please!

You'll find everything you need to keep your hair beautiful, manageable, perfectly groomed in the Robert Curley Hair-Styling Kit (including instructions and hair-styling guide).

Notre Dame Takes First Honors in National Poll

By HAROLD CLASSEN
NEW YORK (AP)—Notre Dame ran away with the honors in the first weekly Associated Press poll of 1953 to determine the 10 best college football teams.
The Irish, third place winners in the final tabulation of 1952 but easy winners in a pre-season election two weeks ago, snared 71 of 98 first place votes following the 28-21 victory over Oklahoma on Saturday. Michigan State, proud national champion of a year ago, slipped to second in the balloting after being held to a 21-7 triumph by Iowa.
Notre Dame garnered 907 points on the basis that 10 points are given for each first place, nine for second and so on until only one is given for 10th place. Michigan State, with six firsts, was second with 692 points.
While the sports writers and broadcasters agreed on the strength of Notre Dame and Michigan State they showed no agreement the rest of the way. Forty-four different teams registered points.
The top two were followed by Maryland with 501 points, Michigan with 403, UCLA 391, Ohio State 380, Southern California 346, Oklahoma 316, Georgia Tech 242 and Baylor 188. The Sooners showing against Notre Dame was so strong that the club was voted eighth place although defeated in its only start this season.

Coach Frank Leahy of Notre Dame, who said he was pleased with his team after its triumph, was quoted in late summer that the club would be lucky to make a first down this fall. It made 11 against the Sooners and yielded the same number.
This weekend Notre Dame plays Purdue, beaten last Saturday but always a rugged foe for the Irish. Michigan State takes on Minnesota, Coach Biggie Munn's alma mater.
A second contingent of 10 teams was made up, in this order, by Mississippi State, Duke, West Virginia, Rice, Mississippi, Wisconsin, Texas, Georgia, Louisiana State and Holy Cross.
The top 10 (figures in brackets indicate number of first place votes):
1—Notre Dame (71) 907
2—Michigan State (6) 692
3—Maryland (5) 501
4—Michigan (3) 403
5—UCLA (3) 391
6—Ohio State (2) 380
7—Southern California (1) 346
8—Oklahoma 316
9—Georgia Tech 242
10—Baylor 188
The second 10: 11—Mississippi State (1) 176; 12—Duke (1) 127; 13—West Virginia (4) 94; 14—Rice 76; 15—Mississippi 68; 16—Wisconsin 54; 17—Texas 53; 18—Georgia 49; 19—Louisiana State 46; 20—Holy Cross 42.
Other teams which received 10 or more points: Missouri 38; Army and Pennsylvania 31 each; William & Mary 24; California 22; Northwestern 16.

Big Seven To Study Orange Bowl Tie-Up

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Big Seven faculty committee Monday set up a special committee to study "all details" regarding a proposed Orange Bowl tie-up with its league and the new Atlantic Coast Conference.
Executive Secretary Reaves Peters said the Big Seven committee, yet to be selected, will meet with all parties concerned. That means Orange Bowl officials and Atlantic Coast Conference officials if the latter "is still interested."
"Chances are the meeting will be held very soon," Peters said.
Peters said it should be made "clear" that Monday's development did not mean that any definite conclusions have been reached regarding an Orange Bowl pact.
The decision of the faculty to have a special committee look further into the proposal, however, indicates the Big Seven definitely is interested in such a pact.

How The Rockets Roll From The 'T'

Club Owners Meet Again Today

No Decision Reached On Brown Shift

NEW YORK (AP)—The American League club owners failed to come to a decision on what to do with the St. Louis Browns after a meeting of more than three hours Monday night and will take up the problem again today at 3 p.m. CST.
Thus for the second straight night, the club owners couldn't decide what to do with their problem child.
"So far we have made no decision on the sale of our stock," said Brownie President Bill Veeck.
The question seems to have boiled down to the two offers that have been made to Veeck for his stock. Although Baltimore was turned down in the first meeting Sunday night, the city apparently has come back into the picture. Los Angeles is the other big candidate.
"St. Louis is definitely out of the picture," said President Will Harridge of the American League. "The league is not interested in operating the Browns in St. Louis. We have definite buyers for the Browns and we hope to accomplish something by tonight."
"We are not considering any one particular city. We are first trying to negotiate for the purchase of the franchise," a Baltimore group headed by Attorney Clarence Miles is reported to have offered to buy the stock from Veeck for $2,236,000, while Los Angeles money men have said they can raise two and a half million dollars immediately and up to six million dollars within 10 days.
Del Webb, co-owner of the New York Yankees, is the guiding hand behind the talk of moving to the West Coast. He has admitted that he wants to see the American League on the coast, but never definitely has committed himself to Los Angeles.
General Manager Frank Lane of the Chicago White Sox told reporters that Webb had been authorized by the league to negotiate on behalf of unnamed interests for the 79 per cent of the Browns' stock held by Veeck.
This would throw the spotlight on the West Coast since Webb is not interested in the east. Lane said a price of $2,400,000 had been set on the Browns stock and that the league agreed to hold the stock in escrow pending approval of the undisclosed buyers. Any such action must be approved by both Veeck and the League.
The big surprise was the return of Baltimore to consideration. When the city was turned down Sunday night by a 4-4 count the question of moving there was considered closed. Now it definitely is open again.
Rumors that both the National and American League were jockeying for Los Angeles and San Francisco continued to make the rounds. The league that lands both not only would acquire fertile territory, but would simplify schedule and transportation problems.
Asked if the National League had held a secret conclave Monday, President Warren Giles said: "We definitely have had no meeting. I talked to two or three of the club owners, but that's all."
Veeck talked Monday with a group of his Chicago backers who have financed his operation in St. Louis where he says he has lost some $750,000 in two and a half years.

Billy Gilliam Loses In 4th

BROOKLYN (AP)—Coley Wallace of New York stopped Billy Gilliam of East Orange, N. J., in 2:18 of the fourth round in a scheduled 10-rounder at the Eastern Parkway Arena Monday night. Wallace, a 12-5 favorite, weighed 204 and Gilliam 211.
The 25-year-old New Yorker floored Gilliam for an eight count with a left hook and right hand combination to the head followed by another series of left and right hook combinations.
Bob Rigali is a halfback on the Notre Dame football squad. His father won a Notre Dame football letter back in 1925.
Irv Noren of the Yankees was named the most valuable player in the Texas League in 1948 and the Pacific Coast League in 1949.

It Was Tough One For Rams To Win

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Los Angeles Rams 21-7 win over the New York pro football Giants here Sunday was one of the most costly in recent Ram history.
A spokesman for the local team said 11 Rams were injured badly enough to require treatment from trainer D. J. Archer Monday.
Three of the casualties will not be able to play in Sunday's San Francisco tilt, the club said. They are end Tom Fears, leg injury; back Norb Hecker wrist injury; and Guard Bud McFadin with a pulled muscle.
Herb Rich and Vitamin T. Smith, backs, and guard John Hock who didn't suit up for the Giants are also expected out of action for Sunday's 49er game.
The rest of Sunday's casualties will take it easy on practice drills for a day or two.

Lopez Signs 2-Year Pact With Indians

NEW YORK (AP)—Al Lopez signed a new 2-year contract to manage the Cleveland Indians of the American League Monday, it was announced by General Manager Hank Greenberg.
There was no announcement of the salary, but it was estimated at $40,000 per year.
Lopez has managed the Indians for three seasons. They finished second each time to the New York Yankees.

Sooner Errors Could Give Pitt Win—Coach

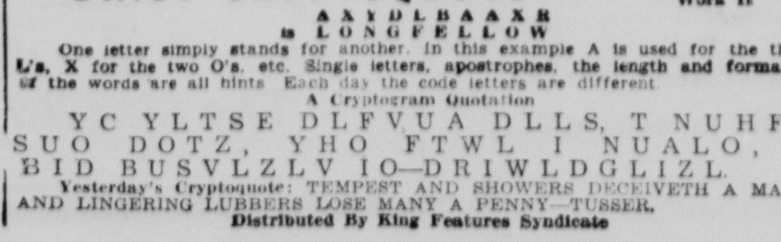

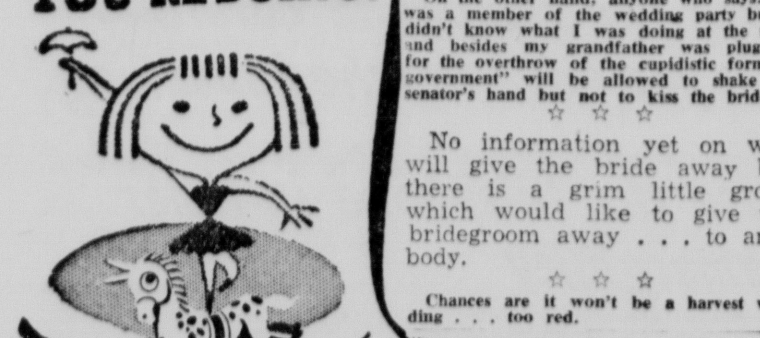

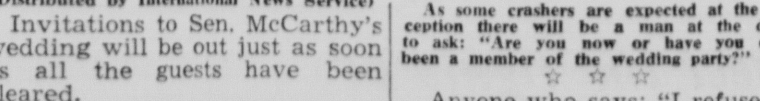

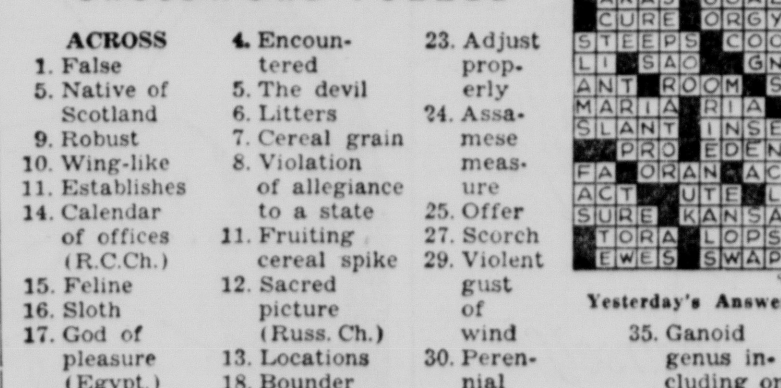

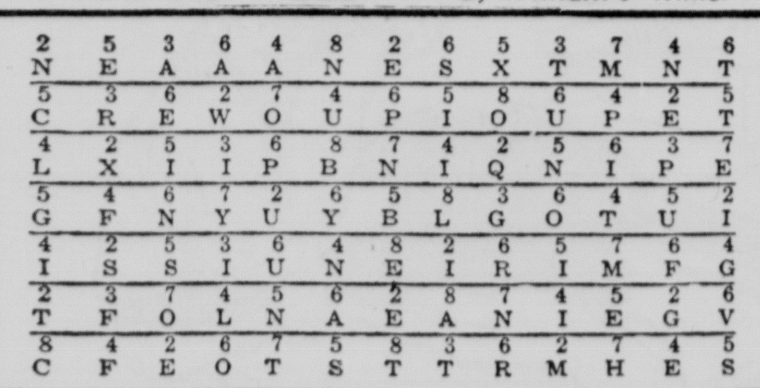

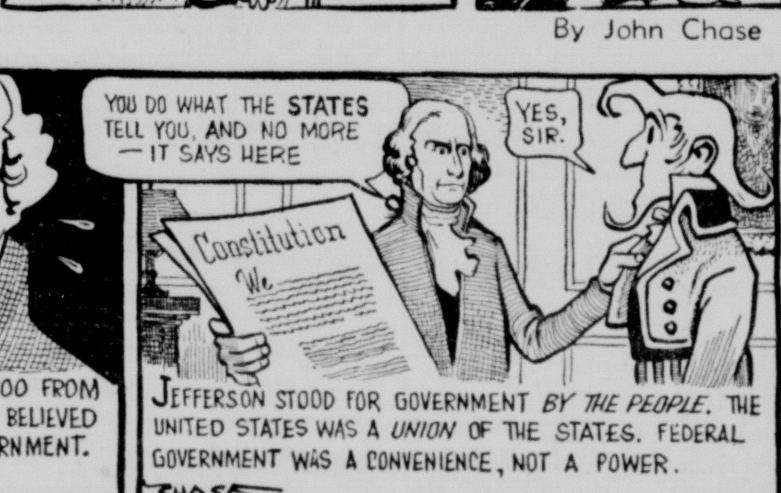

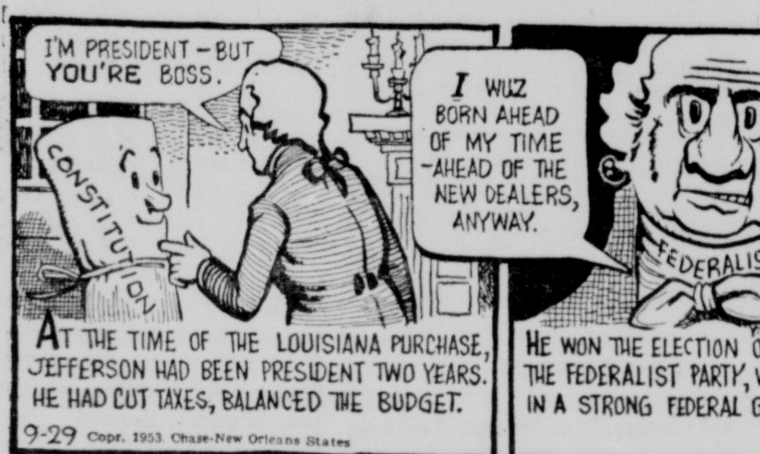

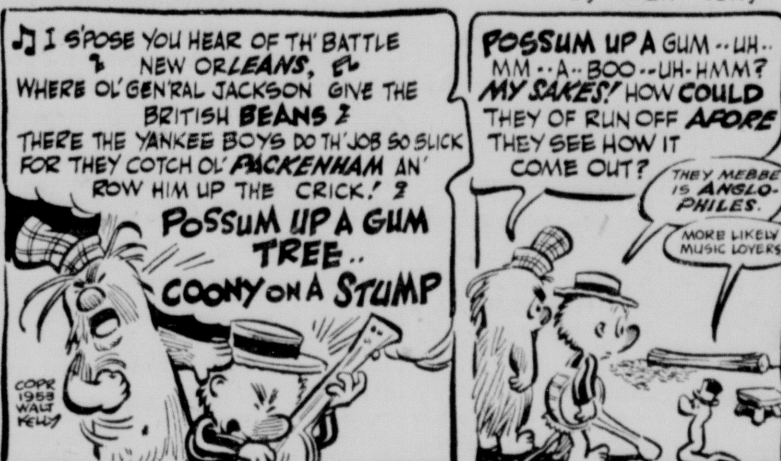

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Oklahoma's football team will have to quit making so many mistakes if it intends to defeat Pittsburgh next Saturday, Sooners Coach Bud Wilkinson said Monday.
Wilkinson told 300 members of the Monday Quarterback Club here eight mistakes beat his team when it fell to Notre Dame last Saturday 28-21.
"It was a hard game and we played better physically than we're capable of playing," he pointed out.
Notre Dame's four touchdowns came after cashing in Oklahoma errors—two from fumbles, one intercepted pass and a blocked kick.

Churchill Still Wants Top Level Big Four Meeting

LONDON (P)—Prime Minister Churchill took time out from his vacation Monday night to make clear that he still thinks a top level "Big Four" meeting is a good idea.

At the same time, the 78-year-old statesman—who is sunning himself on the French Riviera on doctor's orders—bluntly rejected Laborite complaints that he has abdicated his job of running British foreign policy.

The announcement from No. 10 Downing Street came as Socialist Party leaders convening at Margate protested that Churchill's proposal for a Big Four meeting had been overruled by his deputies who are now in real control of the government.

Churchill "has in no way changed his mind about the proposals contained in his speech of May 11," said the unusual Downing Street statement issued under the prime minister's okay. "It is untrue that these involved any difference with his colleagues."

In Washington, the State Department said it failed to see how a top level conference suggested could "accomplish results different from those being sought through (lower level) conferences that are now in prospect."

It cited in particular the Western Big Three's invitation to Russia to a meeting of foreign ministers Oct. 15 in Lugano, Switzerland, to discuss the future of Germany and Austria.

The Kremlin's reply to that invitation was handed to the three Western embassies in Moscow Monday, but its contents were not made known.

Diplomatic circles already are speculating that revival of

Nebraska Income Tax Collections Drop 10 Per Cent

OMAHA (P)—Income tax collections in Nebraska are down about 10 per cent from a year ago, E. A. Hayes, director of the Nebraska Internal Revenue District, said Monday.

But Hayes said it's hard to tell whether this is indicative of a trend.

During a two-week period ending Sept. 23, the Nebraska office's receipts were $14,922,755 in 1952 and $13,513,984 this year.

This period is considered significant because it covers quarterly collections of estimated income tax for 1953 and quarterly 1952 corporation payments.

Churchill's May 11 proposal for a meeting of the heads of state rather than only the foreign ministers might prove more acceptable to the Kremlin.

The United States and France have taken the position that Russia has still to show through action that a meeting of the top leaders would really be worthwhile.

In an apparent reply to charges he wasn't doing his job and had been countermanded by his subordinates, Churchill's statement said " . . . The Prime Minister, who has not ceased at any time to hold and exercise the responsibility belonging to his office, has been consulted on every decision of policy and is in full agreement with what is being done in the circumstances which prevail."

Churchill is flying back to London Wednesday from Cap D'Ail, where he has been vacationing. He has called for a cabinet meeting soon after he returns.

Butler, Curtis Will Seek Issuance Of Pershing Coin

Sen. Hugh Butler and Rep. Carl Curtis announced Monday they would seek passage at the next session of Congress of a measure permitting issuance of a coin commemorating Gen. John J. Pershing, World War I commander of the AEF.

Harry R. Follmer of Oak, Neb., executive director of the Pershing Memorial Foundation, said proceeds from the sale of the commemorative coin would be used to establish chairs of government in colleges and universities across the nation, and to provide scholarships for young men and women to attend colleges and universities.

Follmer said the act authorizing the commemorative coin has the backing of veterans groups and patriotic and fraternal societies.

The Pershing Memorial Foundation, incorporated recently, will administer the funds derived from the sale of the coins. Trustees of the Foundation are: Arthur A. Dobson, John H. Agee, Elmer E. Magee, Gen. Guy N. Henninger, and M. A. Hyde, all of Lincoln; Leroy Welsh, J. B. Brain Jr., all W. Dale Clark, W. B. Millard Jr., of Omaha; and Follmer.
